Belief Grows Dulles Soon To Resign Post

Failure To Respond To Cancer Treatment
Said of Top Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators expressed today a growing belief that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may have to hand in his resignation soon.

There were well-founded reports—including some from persons who have talked to him—that Dulles has failed to respond to treatment for a cancerous condition.

If fresh medical treatments planned at Walter Reed Army Hospital do not show results, the general expectation among members of Congress is that Dulles will step out of his official job quickly to clear the way for appointment of a successor.

Dulles returned unexpectedly Sunday from a Florida rest to re-enter the hospital for further checks and treatment. President Eisenhower visited him for 45 minutes Monday but delayed a decision on Dulles' future.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said later that Dulles has not resigned, and added that "pending additional medical evaluation there will be no further statement from the President."

But several senators said that if Dulles finds he is not going to be able to attend the scheduled East-West foreign ministers meeting in Geneva May 11, they believe he will want the American representative there to carry the full title of secretary of state.

In Dulles' absence, that representative seems certain to be Christian Herter, undersecretary who is serving now as acting secretary.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California, assistant Senate Republican leader, said there is no question in his mind that Dulles will "eliminate himself if his medical advice indicates physical inability to resume his full responsibilities."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), agreeing, added that "I don't think the country can afford to go on and on without an active head of the State Department."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said in a separate interview he agrees that the chief U.S. delegate "must not be in an inferior position" at Geneva.

"He must have the full title of secretary of state," Mansfield said. "I am sure that if he becomes convinced in his own mind that he can't carry on, Secretary Dulles will hand in his papers."

Instructions Readied for Nicholas Jury

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Six lawyers and a judge will hammer out final instructions today for a jury that will decide the fate of Connie Nicholas.

The murder trial of the trim divorcee stood adjourned until Wednesday, when the panel of 12 married men will hear final arguments in the killing of handsome drug firm executive Forrest Teel.

After receiving instructions from Judge Thomas J. Faulconer, the jury will retire to debate which version of the July 31 shooting is the true one.

Did the 45-year-old divorcee ruthlessly plan to kill Teel, 54, because he was breaking up their 15-year romance to pursue a young secretary?

Or did a pearl-handled French pistol go off accidentally in a struggle after Mrs. Nicholas threatened to commit suicide in Teel's white Cadillac?

One of the key issues in today's conference on jury instructions was a defense request that the jury be allowed to return any verdict down to simple assault. However, Judge Faulconer already has said he will give the jury only three choices if they find the brunette defendant guilty.

The choices are first-degree murder (electrocution or life imprisonment), second-degree murder (life) or manslaughter (2-21 years).

NO ACTION—A concerned President Eisenhower leaves Walter Reed Hospital with Maj. Gen. Leonard B. Heaton (right) after conferring with cancer-stricken Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The President said Dulles will undergo new cancer treatments and that no action will be taken on Dulles' government role until the results are studied.

House To Vote Today on Gas Tax Asked by DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This is the day that makes or breaks Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's highway program.

The Ohio House will reach a floor vote on a bill to increase the state gasoline tax from five to seven cents. House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) has told DiSalle he believes he has the votes to pass the bill and send it to the Senate.

But, should minority Republicans and reluctant Democrats balk at the bill designed to produce 116 million dollars in the next two years for highways, the governor's 300-million-dollar-a-year roadbuilding program will fall flat on its financial face.

The Democrats expect a Republican attempt to trim the gasoline tax from two cents to one cent a gallon.

If the Democrats withstand the GOP attack, the governor's backers in the house may be in good shape to push through the rest of his one-third billion dollar tax program.

Two previous DiSalle tax measures have passed the House and now are in the Senate's hands. They are bills to double the corporation franchise tax—estimated to produce 26 million dollars in the next two years—and increase the tax on 3.2 beer, which would yield 4½ million.

The orphan of Ohio's complex tax picture showed its face again Monday.

It is the bill which would lift the sales-tax exemption on materials "used directly" in farm and factory production.

DiSalle won't admit it's his brainchild and Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Stephen R. Olenick (D-Mahoning) disowns it. DiSalle's finance director, James Maloon, estimates lifting the "used directly" exemptions would provide an extra 55 million dollars in revenue each year. Industry representatives set the figure nearer 90 million. DiSalle insists state estimates are accurate.

DiSalle has said the Legislature, if it lifts the exemption, will be creating a stable tax climate for industry in Ohio for the next four years.

DiSalle mentioned lifting the "used directly" sales tax exemption in his budget message six weeks ago, but he left the Legislature on its own. He refrained from a direct recommendation.

Now, it appears, Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) is wholeheartedly behind the proposal. And, since several of DiSalle's proposed tax increases will yield less than anticipated, he, too, appears to be plumping.

Clark County Ducks Killed by Sadist

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Another outbreak of sadistic animal killing has been reported this time in Clark County.

Sheriff's Deputies said Mrs. Bertha Snider, who owns a farm near Medway in southwestern Clark County, reported six ducks on her farm were killed with a .22 caliber weapon. In similar killings in Madison County, 73 lambs have been killed since March 20, all with a .22 caliber weapon.

Deputies said they doubt if the killings here are by the same person, but they are not ruling out the possibility.

Ike, Hoover Lead Tributes To Bob Taft

Memorial Bell Tower On Capitol Hill Is Dedicated in Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower dedicated a towering memorial today to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. He praised Taft as a man who gave generously and unstintingly of himself "for the good of all America."

Eisenhower honored a former political rival and ally at ceremonies at the base of a 100-foot bell tower erected at the foot of Capitol Hill in memory of the Ohio senator.

Taft, Eisenhower said, was a liberal in championing individual rights and the symbol of conservatism in everything affecting the national economy.

Former President Herbert Hoover and high government officials also participated with Eisenhower in the dedication.

Hoover depicted Taft as a man who chose to die with his boots on rather than to desert his post. He called Taft "an official with a social conscience" and said: "He not only would not desert his post, he never deserted his people."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) arranged to accept the marble tower on behalf of Congress.

Eisenhower, in a brief prepared address, voiced his personal gratitude to Taft for "the priceless gift of friendship" and the wisdom and experience offered by the senator "whenever I needed him most."

To Eisenhower, Taft was the rival over whom the former general strode to the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. Taft also was the Republican leader in the Senate in the Eisenhower administration's infancy.

"All knew him as a commanding figure on Capitol Hill," Eisenhower said.

"To the people of the United States he was a liberal in his championship of the individual rights and opportunity, but he was also the very symbol of informed and responsible conservatism in everything affecting the nation's economy. He was, by his own definition, a politician. An admiring nation now acknowledges that he was infinitely more."

In tracing Taft's contribution to the nation, Hoover told of an unsuccessful visit he made to Washington, July 1, 1953 in an effort to convince the Ohio senator he ought to return to New York Hospital for treatment of his illness. Taft died on July 31 that year of cancer.

The former president quoted Taft as telling him:

"My friend, you know what is the matter with me. I know what is the matter with me. I am going to die with my boots on."

The tower is the only memorial to an individual Congress has permitted to be erected on the Capitol grounds.

At the base of the tower is a 10-foot high statue of Taft, whose death from cancer on July 31, 1953 ended a career that included four unsuccessful bids for the Republican presidential nomination.

Burglars Get $1,100 in Loot At Orient

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is investigating a weekend burglary which netted approximately $1,101 in loot at an elevator in Orient.

The entry was at the Orient branch elevator of the Grove City Farmers' Exchange. The burglary was discovered Monday morning by Elmer Mason, manager of the elevator.

Investigating Deputy Robert Hoover said the burglar or burglars made a complete haul of office equipment, tools, watches and other articles.

Deputy Hoover said loot included a calculator machine, a ticket machine, three wrist watches, eight pocket watches, six crescent wrenches, four pipe wrenches, two pairs of pliers, four steel measuring tapes, one wood plane, one staple puller, 12 hammers, a half set of flanging tools, one set of socket wrenches, fishing equipment and a small amount of change.

HOOPER said further inventory may reveal other articles taken.

According to the deputy, a one-inch pry bar was used to force a front door of the building. He said the intruders then used the same bar to open a tool chest.

Planes To Try Mid-Air Recovery of Satellite

Master Plan Meeting Monday

Plans are well under way for a "town meeting" here at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Circleville High School Auditorium.

Occasion for the meeting is the introduction of the proposed master plan for Circleville. This plan will be presented by members of the graduate City Design class of Miami University.

The plan is now complete. It will outline how the city can grow for the next 20 years by preserving the assets of the community and eliminating the liabilities.

Every citizen of Circleville and surrounding area is invited to view the presentation by the Miami designers. The plan and the meeting are sponsored by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

All city officials, county officers and other interested persons are urged to attend the meeting—which may well be the most important session of the year.

A Circleville High School musical unit is set to publicize the town meeting Saturday. The band will travel throughout the city, reminding citizens of the Monday night gathering. Handbills will be distributed also.

There is no admission charge. All phases of the vital master plan will be explained to the citizenry and there will be a session following the presentation where anyone may ask questions regarding details of the plan.

The Monday meeting is the culmination of nearly a year's work by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce. Entire cost of the plan has been underwritten by the Chamber. Similar plans have cost scores of cities as much as $10,000-$12,000.

Tallulah Asks Her Dahlings In Congress To Aid Actors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tallulah Bankhead returned to Congress and asked the precious dahlings there to help her fellow actors.

"I don't know why y'all make me so nervous," she told the House Ways and Means Committee Monday. "I've been sitting on everybody's knee up here since I was two."

Tallulah, wearing her mink just off her shoulder and not appearing a bit nervous, reminded the congressmen her uncle, granddaddy and daddy all had served in Congress. Her daddy, the late William B. Bankhead, had been speaker of the House.

Testifying for Actors Equity Assn., she asked that unemployment compensation be given to actors out of work, as so many of them often are.

Perhaps, she admitted, they ought not be actors, but she added: "Maybe you shouldn't be elected to Congress, who knows?"

Tallulah made certain the congressmen knew she wasn't asking jobless payments for herself.

"It's all new to me," she said. "I didn't know such a thing existed."

Nevertheless, the actress, who had flown to Washington from New York, was convinced Congress should approve legislation for jobless actors.

"I had to get up at 5 a.m. this morning," she explained, "so for that reason alone I think this bill should be passed."

Tallulah did not have the whole show for herself. Actors Equity also had asked redheaded Peggy Cass, a Broadway and television star, to read a statement.

When Tallulah said the unemployment compensation program was new to her, Miss Cass assured her:

"I know the answers, honey."

"You always do, dahling," Tallulah retorted.

As Miss Cass stepped to the witness chair to read her statement, she said: "I feel like Bugs Bunny following mighty Joe Young."

Norfolk & Western Warning Gates To Operate Late Today

Warning gates for the Norfolk & Western Railway crossing at W. Main St. were to go into operation late today, company spokesmen reported.

The gates are being installed by a railroad signal crew from Roanoke, Va. Cost of the extensive protection system is reported to be about $35,000. The work is being financed by the railroad and the federal government.

There are three gates at the intersection. One on the east side of the tracks protects westbound Main St. motorists and pedestrians. Two other gates are located on the west side. One protects the main line and the other protects a single track about 15 yards west of the double-track main line.

In addition, there is protection at both the north and south entrances of Canal St. onto Main St.

Flasher lights, an audible signal and the gates themselves will operate automatically when a train approaches.

THOR TAKES OFF—A satellite-carrying Thor blasts off from the launching pad in Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., carrying a 440-pound moon with its recovery capsule. The instrument package is aimed at an earth-circling orbit around the North and South poles. It's the second in the Air Force's "Project Discoverer" series.

Reds Buzz U.S. Airliner Again

Old Berlin Corridor Argument Reappears

BONN, Germany—Soviet planes have buzzed an American Air Force transport in another incident in an air corridor to Berlin, the U.S. Embassy disclosed today.

An embassy spokesman said two Soviet jet fighters harassed an Air Force double-decker propeller transport on its way back from a routine cargo delivery flight to Berlin April 3.

The embassy spokesman gave this account of the April 3 incident:

The big military version of the Boeing Stratocruiser was flying at about 12,000 feet when two Soviet jets came up from behind and began cruising, each about 100 feet from a wingtip of the American plane.

The Soviet fliers then swapped positions, one going over and the other going under the transport. The American pilot reduced altitude a little. This seemed to satisfy the Soviets, for they flew away. The whole encounter lasted only a few minutes.

The spokesman charged the Soviet jets with "very dangerous maneuvers." He said American and Soviet officers at the four-power air safety center in Berlin had exchanged verbal protests, each accusing the other's fliers of dangerous air tactics.

J. W. Beburow, chief spokesman of the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin, commenting on the incident, indicated the Soviet Union is standing by its demands that American planes fly below 10,000 feet in the corridors.

"The Soviet standpoint is known and has not changed," Beburow told a reporter.

The United States Monday rejected the limit the Soviets are trying to put on the corridors and said U.S. planes will fly as high as they need to whenever they want to. A formal American note was delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office in Moscow.

The Soviet Union has warned the United States that it cannot be responsible for the safety of American planes flying above 10,000 feet.

With the new tuboprop and jet transports coming into full service, the Allied powers have been determined to establish clearly their right to fly in the corridors at any height.

Discoverer Not Visible

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Soviets may be able to see Discoverer II, but the newest American satellite will not be "optically" visible from the United States, he said.

Discoverer II Reentry Slated

U.S. 'Moon' Launched
On Pole-to-Pole Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force planes today may try to snatch from the air a miniature capsule of a type that someday could be used to parachute men back from space stations.

The capsule is in the nose cone of Discoverer II, a 1,600-pound satellite launched Monday from this West Coast missile base.

Across the nation at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Air Force tried unsuccessfully Monday to put three satellites into orbit from a single launching vehicle, Vanguard III.

The Vanguard's second stage failed to ignite after it left the launching pad, when the missile apparently was about 200 miles high. Cause of the trouble was not known, officials said.

If Discoverer II achieves proper stability, its instrumented nose cone is scheduled to be kicked loose on command from ground tracking stations and float earthward beneath a parachute.

Eight Hawaii-based C119 Flying Boxcars are awaiting orders to swoop on the descending parachute and try to drape it across a 30-foot-long trapeze bar suspended beneath each plane. The parachute and capsule would then be reeled into the plane.

The parachute would come into range of the Air Force C119s at about 20,000 feet. The planes would have 10 minutes to snatch the parachute from the air. If they failed, the buoyant capsule would be fished from the ocean by Navy vessels patrolling the recovery area.

The capsule contains instruments to supply oxygen and control heat and atmospheric pressure. Other instruments will check how effective these environmental systems are. They are designed to keep small animals alive in future Discoverer II.

Regardless of the outcome of the recovery attempt, spokesmen said they were elated by the second successful orbit in the Discoverer series. Discoverer I, fired Feb. 28, circled the earth 17 days before falling back into the atmosphere and burning up.

Seven hours after Monday's launch spokesmen announced the satellite was whirling around the earth north-to-south every 90.84 minutes. Its path from pole to pole took it as far out as 243 miles and brought it as close as 156 miles. It was traveling 17,433.8 miles an hour.

With this orbital pattern established by tracking stations in Alaska.

Library Sets Tomorrow as 'Free Day'

Tomorrow will be "Free Day" at the Pickaway County District Library.

All overdue books may be returned on that day with no overdue charges made. This does not include books on rentals.

Books may be brought in and placed in the barrel provided for that purpose or put through the Night Deposit slot in the Pickaway Street door of the library after hours.

This is an excellent opportunity to return those long overdue library books that have been forgotten and may have turned up in the spring house cleaning or have been overlooked in the classroom.

On the bookmobile there will be a series of Free Days during the weeks of April 27 and May 4 so that the children of all of the county schools may have equal opportunity to return their overdue books when the bookmobile makes its routine stop.

The local library is celebrating "Library Week" this week. Free day is just one of the activities at the library.

Today businessmen were invited to a "coffee hour" from 10 to 11 a. m. The library staff had on display books particularly suited for busy businessmen. Coffee and doughnuts were served by members of the library staff, headed by Mrs. Enid Denham, librarian.

Discoverer II

ka, Hawaii and Vandenberg, the satellite is expected to remain aloft at least 30 days. It will continue sending radio beacon signals during its lifetime.

William H. Godel, director of planning for the Advanced Research Project Agency, said the launching, regardless of success of the capsule recovery plans, is "a significant step in the nation's missile and space research program."

Future Discoverers will carry mice and monkeys into orbit to test the hazards man will meet in space travel. The Discoverer II capsule, although only 27 by 33 inches, is remarkably similar in function to the capsule planned for Project Mercury which is expected to bring a man back from orbit some two years hence.

The Vanguard failure in Florida was the seventh in nine tries for that type rocket. If it had behaved as planned, the second stage would have boosted the satellite payload up to 9,000 miles an hour before separation of the units. Signals were received by three tracking stations for about seven minutes before the trouble developed.

Rape Victim's Plea Saves 2 Boys' Lives

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two handsome youths were saved from the electric chair Monday by the plea of a tiny, gray-haired spinster they abused and raped.

Instead Michael F. Miller and Thomas Nevin Eckenrod, both 18, were sentenced to life in prison.

Their victim sat outside the courtroom, nervously fingering a golden cross, as the pair heard the verdict. She peered through a glass door as the neatly dressed youths rose to be sentenced.

Asst. Dist. Atty., Frank Briscoe said the state would have demanded death for the pair if their victim hadn't asked that their lives be spared.

Briscoe read her statement and Miller's confession.

This told how Eckenrod seized the spinster in front of a hotel as she walked to work last Dec. 26. She was dragged into a car driven by Miller.

The pair beat her almost unconscious, drove to a lonely lane, ripped off her clothing and repeatedly beat and assaulted her.

The state agreed not to ask death if the boys pleaded guilty and accepted life sentences.

The tiny victim bowed her head and wept outside the courtroom.

181 Ohioans Pass State Bar Exam

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John M. Kistler of Columbus received the highest grade among the 181 who passed state bar examinations to qualify as attorneys. His grade was 351 out of a possible 400.

A total of 251 took the examinations here March 3-5. Results were announced today. Sixty-nine failed and results for one applicant were withheld pending his graduation from law school.

Those who passed will be sworn in as attorneys by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court. Ceremonies will be held in the Supreme Court chambers, Columbus, at 2 p. m. April 22; in the Court of Appeals, Cincinnati, at 11 a. m. April 24 and in the Hollenden Hotel, Cleveland, at 11 a. m. April 25.

Jefferson County Judges Underpaid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three Jefferson County judges have been getting shortchanged $18.60 each on their yearly salaries. They've been drawing pay based in part on the population of the areas in which each has separate jurisdiction. They should have been getting paid on the population basis of the entire county court district.

That was the ruling Monday of Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. According to the opinion, each judge should receive a $1,500 base and an additional three cents per capita for the population of the district involved. Thus each judge should get $4,108.69 annually instead of the $4,000 now being paid.

Forger Teets Placed on Probation

Donald Teets, 24, 121 W. Ohio St., was placed on three years probation today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Teets pleaded guilty to forgery at his arraignment Friday. He was indicted by the April term of the Grand Jury for forging a check on the Second National Bank, 125 W. Main St., in the amount of $14.50.

Teets forged the name of Robert Tootle on the check and cashed it at Thomas's Market, W. Ohio St. He was implicated in the crime along with Ralph Hoffman III.

Hoffman pleaded guilty to the forgery charge Friday and was sentenced to one to 20 years at hard labor in the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus.

Teets was arrested by City Police. One of the terms of his probation was that he not inhabit any places where intoxicating beverages are sold.

Kid Rocket Makers Put On Probation

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two boys, 14 and 15, who secretly turned an attic into a rocket laboratory with chemicals they stole from school, were put on probation Monday by juvenile court.

Two spectacular experiments at her home sent the mother of the older boy to authorities.

On one occasion she said, she heard a buzzing noise outside the house and stepped out to see a rocket made from a detergent can swooping around the yard in an alarming fashion.

Another time, the mother heard a loud explosion in the attic and found it full of smoke and her son suffering from minor burns.

Police also found the boys had packed charges for a toy cannon with enough power to pierce small trees.

Court Referee E. Wade McBride said the boys left windows open in Scott High School and returned at night to steal sulphuric acid, aluminum powder, ether and glycerine.

McBride said the court will try to find a healthy outlet for the boys' natural scientific talent.

Dayton Jail Violations Eyed by Jury

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal grand jury here is investigating an alleged series of "civil rights" violations in the Montgomery County Jail, the Dayton Daily News learned today.

The grand jury session stems from a secret investigation of jail conditions made by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation early in 1958.

As an aftermath of the FBI probe, one deputy resigned his post and three others were disciplined by Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter.

Exact nature of the three-week FBI investigation was never disclosed. The FBI said it had received complaints that the civil rights of one or more individuals were violated.

Civil rights violations include mistreatment of prisoners, deprivation of privileges, and beatings.

The FBI probe was touched off by a complaint filed by a New-castle, Ind., youth, who charged he was beaten by detectives. He and two other Indiana youths were arrested in November 1957 for attempted burglary.

Three attorneys from the civil rights division of the Department of Justice are presenting testimony to the grand jury.

Attorney Joseph Ryan said the government should complete its presentation by the end of the week.

Democrats' Idle Check OKd

Ike Tells House GOP To Support Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave House Republicans a nod to support a Democratic proposal for a commission to survey the unemployment problem.

As a result, House GOP chief Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said he is going to inform the Democratic high command in the House that there will be no organized Republican opposition.

The bill for creation of a special 11-member commission is sponsored by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas. It has passed the Senate.

Halleck announced his position after the regular weekly meeting of Republican leaders with Eisenhower.

But Halleck said he has considerable qualms about the matter, especially if the projected unemployment study should get in the way of action on such items as an area redevelopment bill and housing legislation plan.

If Republicans had originated the proposal for a commission study, Halleck said, it would be termed another stall.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said there was a rather lengthy discussion with the President today about the Labor Department's proposed regulations as to employment of imported farm labor. He said there will be hearings by congressional committees, even though no legislation is involved, in order that all sides may express views.

The regulations include proposed standards covering such matters as transportation, housing and wages. Some farm organizations, Dirksen said, question the legality of the standards.

3 Convicted For Attempted Hog Theft

Three men accused of attempting to take a pig from a farm in Perry Twp. Sunday night were fined and sentenced in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday.

The charges were filed against David R. Thompson, 24, and Robert Thompson, 31, brothers from Route 3, Athens, and Pearl J. Burchfield, 37, also Route 3, Athens.

The brothers each was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Burchfield received a similar sentence, but $50 of the fine and the jail sentence were suspended and he was placed on probation for one year.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover said Burchfield's 15-year-old son was apprehended along with the three men. The youth will be referred to juvenile authorities, the deputy said.

THE MEN and the boy were picked up by Deputy Hoover at 1:30 a. m. Sunday on Route 277 about one mile south of Atlanta after their parked car had been spotted in that area. One of the men admitted that he and his companions intended to take a pig owned by Howard Summers, Perry Twp., Hoover said.

According to the deputy, the men had removed the license plates from their car to prevent immediate identification. He said the Thompson brothers have previous burglary records.

Brown Says Nepotism Hurts Whole Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — How to deal with nepotism and so-called "honest graft" is bothering House and Senate leaders, Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) reports in a circular to his constituents.

"Only a relatively few legislators have put members of their families, who do not work, on the public payroll; rented their front porches, etc."

"However, as a result, reflection is cast upon the decent and honest lawmakers who are in the big majority, and the whole Congress suffers," the circular says.

U.S. Firms Up Production in Foreign Plants

Difference Made Up In Various Ways as Exports Show Drop

Editor's Note: Transfer of American business is growing. There are several ways Americans can meet foreign competition on more, even terms. In the following first of three articles on the trend, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells how one firm is offsetting the general drop in U. S. exports.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is more than one way for an American firm to operate abroad—we use four. But there's just one reason we are thinking about further expansion overseas —we aren't going to be pushed out of any of our world markets."

That's how Gifford V. Leece, Quincy, Ill., maker of tools and machinery, reacts to all the talk today about whether Americans are being priced out of world markets.

Operating costs have been rising in the United States faster than in other lands. Many American firms have been able in the past to surmount this because of technical advances here that put them out in front of their foreign competitors.

But in the last few years Europe and Japan particularly have been catching up fast both in technique and designs. Americans feel they haven't the advantage they once had — and the rising costs here are beginning to hurt.

American exports have been falling off. Now many American firms are recouping because of increasing sales of their foreign plants.

The start of the Common Market in Europe has given some American manufacturers still more to worry about. They fear that in time the six nations — West Germany, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy — will build a tariff wall that gives unbeatable protection to plants operating inside the area.

Since Gardner — Denver has plants within the Common Market area, Leece feels that the new departure may be a help in building up his sales there.

The four plans that his firm uses overseas are:

1. A wholly owned plant in Rio De Janeiro, where factory and tools are its own and its product is made for distribution in Brazil, and maybe later in other countries. It was built to offset local competition that was cutting into the firm's market.

2. A leased plant in South Africa was built to Gardner — Denver specifications and the company installed its own tools. It makes and distributes its own products. It moved in to protect its existing markets in Africa.

3. In Belgium the firm contracted with a local company that already had factories and tools to make the American items to its specifications and deliver them to warehouses. Its own sales force handles them.

4. Gardner-Denver bought a controlling interest in a German company. The Americans furnish the specifications and the techniques and the German firm makes the products. The American sales force takes over from there.

Leece says that in no case does his company allow others to sell its goods.

The Quincy company is constantly studying opportunities for more expansion abroad. "We intend to hold our markets, whether we make the goods here or abroad," says Leece.

DiSalle Tells Cities To Pick Between Vice, New Industry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio communities which want industry to move in must move gambling out, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle asserted here Monday.

He made that observation to newsmen after a telephone conversation with Prosecutor William Irwin of Belmont County.

The governor called Irwin for a first-hand report on a grand jury investigation of reported gambling activities. The grand jury found no gambling in operation.

"Nothing now is going on and the people were notified to stay closed," DiSalle quoted the prosecutor as saying.

The governor said a state investigator related in affidavits that he had visited five gambling places in the county and participated in dice games and horse betting in some of them. The places were not identified. DiSalle said the affidavits were available to the grand jury but no request for them was made.

The mayor of Martins Ferry and five Bellaire policemen testified before the grand jury, DiSalle said he was informed. A member of the grand jury made a personal check of reputed gambling spots and found no activity, he added.

The governor said in his conversation with Irwin and later emphasized to newsmen that communities cannot have gambling and new industry.

"It is time to take inventory and decide which way they want to go," DiSalle said.

He explained that representatives of industry make inquiries about gambling in communities they are considering for new factories.

"The whole state is affected by gambling in one community," the governor added.

State investigators testified before a Jefferson County grand jury last week about unidentified gambling spots they had found. The governor said he has received no report on the result of their testimony.

DiSalle sent a letter to the State Racing Commission citing a need for changes in regulations at next Wednesday's meeting.

The governor said holders of race meet licenses should be banned from consorting with persons of ill repute or have their permits revoked. He reiterated a preference for a state racing czar to take over some of the commission's powers.

DiSalle said he has received no word from Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland, commission member who indicated recently that he might resign after filing a report on racing improvements in the state.

DiSalle said he plans to send a message to the Legislature next week with his recommendations for racing revisions.

The governor expects to send a later message to the General Assembly outlining his views on changes in Ohio's method of setting utility rates. He also is making an outline on water conservation and similar needs but does not expect to send it to the Legislature.

Paddling Case Hearing Delayed Indefinitely

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Trenton Mayor Harry Stretcher Monday night continued indefinitely an assault and battery brought by a woman who says the Trenton superintendent of schools spanked her 12-year-old son.

Tolley is free under $500 bond.

County Liquor Sales Total $410,419

The average Pickaway County resident purchased $12.42 worth of hard liquor during 1958, it was stated recently by the State Auditor's office.

Pickaway County residents purchased $240,380 worth of hard liquor from the local State Liquor Store and bought $118,887 worth of liquor in county bars and taverns where it was sold.

Total sales to County residents amounted to $359,467. Adding the average mark-up on sales by the glass of the wholesale purchase showed the County estimated sales total at $410,419.

Average per capita sales was figured on its 1958 estimated population of 33,040 persons.

OHIO'S HARD liquor bill last year was in excess of $240 million and averaged $25.67 for each of the state's more than nine million persons.

These figures come from the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes following a detailed audit of the 1958 accounts of the Department of Liquor Control.

Total sales in retail stores and agencies amounted to $157,340,369. Total wholesale business to permit holders was $58,302,411. Actual sales both retail and wholesale amounted to $215,642,780. Adding the average mark-up on sales by the glass of the wholesale purchases showed total estimated sales of $240,629,528.

This averages out to $25.67 for each of the 9,373,235 persons in the state. This is the State Health Department's estimate of Ohio's population on January 1, 1958.

Cuyahoga county, with about 17 per cent of the state's population, accounted for almost 30 per cent of total spent for liquor. Per capita spending in the county was $43.27 compared with the state average of $25.65. It was one of 13 counties above the average.

The others were: Mahoning, $30.59; Lucas, $29.56; Hamilton, $29.50; Montgomery, $28.20; Summit, $28.02; Belmont, $27.69; Ash-tabula, $27.18; Erie, $27.67; Lorain, $27.67; Lawrence, $26.64; Franklin, $26.60; Jefferson, $26.57.

Excluding three counties which do not have a liquor store, Harrison, Morrow and Vinton, per capita spending for liquor was lowest in Fulton county, $6.46, followed by Pike, $6.92 and Holmes, $6.99. Liquor is not sold by the glass in Ashland, Clinton, Fulton, Morgan and Noble counties.

Sixty-One Compressor Stations Now Serve Our Gas Transmission System

A brand new compressor station—our 61st—has boosted the total horsepower of our natural gas transmission system to a sizeable 739,000.

This tremendous amount of horsepower is enabling us to deliver increasing quantities of gas from the Southwest to our customers, some of whom are as far away as the New England states. Our delivery capacity is now more than two billion cubic feet of gas per day.

Back in 1947, when there were no compressor stations in operation on the system, natural gas flowed through the system's 3,182 miles of pipeline under gas field pressure at the rate of some 138 million cubic feet daily.

Today our compressor stations—spaced every 50 to 75 miles—are pushing a lot more gas through a lot more pipe—more than 6100 miles of it. They speed gas to distributing companies serving millions of homes and thousands of factories in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states.

And, newest of all, Texas Eastern now has a number of "satellite stations," which are operated by remote control from other stations on the system.

About a third of Texas Eastern's stations have gas-driven reciprocating compressors. These compressors are large machines—that feed on the gas they push. Other stations have electric motor-powered centrifugal compressors, pioneered by Texas Eastern.

A newer type of power plant is the high speed gas turbine which drives centrifugal compressor units. These new units are so powerful that they can do the work formerly done by a number of smaller ones. Each station is under the supervision of a chief operator. He is assisted by a mechanic and four operators. Each operator is in charge of an eight-hour period—with one to four others assisting him. Thus, a compressor station can develop into a community of from 15 to 20 families.

Regardless of the type of installation—large or small—all Texas Eastern compressor stations have one thing in common...they're immaculate. Bright and gleaming, they usually stand in park-like settings of well trimmed grass and in the background, neat modern company cottages add a domestic note to it all.

At each station, continuous operation—24 hours a day, 365 days a year—is standard practice.

This is one of a series of monthly reports on the diversified activities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Buyer Key to Price Rise

There is uneasiness in Congress and among the economic advisers of the President on the means to control inflation which is heading toward the dangerous acceptance of the theory of administered prices.

Administered prices are those price tags on manufactured goods supposedly not influenced by the law of supply and demand, profit or loss. They are arbitrary prices not subject to consumer appeal, demand or economic conditions.

Proponents of the theory of administered prices contend there are industries — and they point to autos and steel as specific examples — within the United States which govern price levels independently of demands for the product. As a result, say the critics, prices go up while demand goes down, and before long the industry finds itself priced out of the market.

Those who hold to the belief that there are certain specialized industries which deliberately manipulate price levels artificially are either completely ignorant of the system they are attempting to analyze or do not appreciate the force exerted upon market prices by the law of supply and demand.

It is significant that these persons are in the forefront of the clamor for a renewed control over the economy by stepped up government wage-price regulatory powers.

It is true that there are instances of rising prices unhampered by lowering demands. An accurate analysis of each specific instance, however, will reveal soaring costs, not arbitrary judgment, the true culprit. Any manufacturer who finds his profit shrinking or non-existent has but two choices: increase income or flounder in a break-even status hoping for costs to decline. This is assuming, of course, that waste and inefficiencies such as feather-bedding have already been eliminated from the cost structure.

Government cost regulations open the door to bureaucratic blackmail and injustices of the most vile sort, as was proved during World War II. Consumer balking at rising prices achieves the same end by forcing the manufacturer to effect economies and introduce innovations to improve efficiency of his operations.

The buyer's regulatory powers are far more effective and less disruptive than those of any governmental commission.

Grandma Is Getting Younger

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American grandma seems to be getting younger. The average woman in this country now has her last child at the age of 26, becomes a grandmother at 44. In the Soviet Union 80 per cent of the college students are paid by the government to go to school. Soviet professors get up to $60,000 a year plus, in some cases, a summer home and a chauffeured car. But their freedom isn't even academic!

What do you pay for medicine? The average prescription now costs $2.90. And more and more women are getting notions of a career amid the lotions. Some 12.1 per cent of students in pharmacy schools are women.

A milk cow really enjoys being on the wagon. She drinks between 12 and 15 gallons of water every day.

There is a lot of blue-sky speculation about space today. We actually may have worldwide television in another decade but it is highly unlikely you or your neighbor will make a tourist trip to the moon.

There is no greater assurance of success than superb self-assurance. Andrew Maurois once wrote, "Bernard Shaw thinks himself greater than Shakespeare," to which Shaw modestly replied, "I don't just think it—I am." (Well, he did leave a larger estate than Shakespeare.)

Even veteran New Yorkers are amazed at the speed with which skyscrapers are rising in mid-Manhattan today. But the Empire State Building, which required 7 million man hours to build, remains the champ. It was put up in 1 year and 45 days. The United States spends 160 million dollars a year on toothbrushes and dentifrices, yet dental disease remains the nation's most chronic and expensive health problem.

If you want to breathe clean air, go to a desert. Desert air has half the impurities than the air over forest or farmland. City air is usually at least five times as dirty as the air over country areas.

It makes no sense to talk about hindsight. It was their business to have foresight. That is why they were employed.

Similarly there is no use getting emotional about Tibet now. Obviously when the United States assisted the Chinese Communists to gain control because Gen. George Marshall and his advisers disliked Chiang Kai-shek and his entourage, they paved the way for Soviet imperialism to develop in China by use of the Chienlung line.

Perhaps the youngsters who took over the Far Eastern desks in the State Department during the Roosevelt regime had never heard about the Chienlung line, but Nehru is hearing plenty about it today, namely that the Chienlung line includes territories now held by India. The Chienlung line represents the greatest expansion of Chinese imperialism in the centuries of history of that country.

The Tibetan revolt is many months old. It has long been discussed among those closely interested in Chinese affairs, but very little was said about it in the American press. The reason is that it was not an officially reported rebellion until it was nearly over and the Dalai Lama was on his way to sanctuary in India—a sanctuary that could lead to a limited conflagration among the border states between Red China and neutral India.

Realistically, there can no longer be any neutrality between Red China and India as Nehru undoubtedly now realizes. Much that is either kept secret or is temporarily suppressed is confusing when it emerges to the surface. Spot news, a bulletin, a headline read on radio are of little value these days. Background exploration is essential because everything is so different from what it seems to be. The headline reader is a very confused person because what he reads is a footnote to an event in motion, often in a tumultuous motion which even those who are directing its course do not understand.

For instance, Secretary of Defense McElroy is comforted that we have not lost all in Iraq and he draws the analogy that we have not lost all in Indonesia. Neither McElroy nor anyone else can, at this moment, foretell what has been lost in either Iraq or Indonesia. The confusion in those countries produces a cloudy X-ray plate.

The complications are numerous, but the habit of both the Pentagon and the State Department to suppress information which it is not generally advantageous to suppress, in no manner helps the citizen to understand what is going on and therefore he, the citizen, is often surprised to discover his country closer to war than he imagined possible.

BROTHERS SUFFOCATE IN REFRIGERATOR—Found suffocated in an unused refrigerator stored on the back porch of their home in Gary, Ind., the bodies of Gale Holbrook, 5, and his brother Jay, 3, are carried to an ambulance. The boys apparently got into the refrigerator while playing and slammed the door behind them. Their father, Herbert, found the bodies when the youngsters didn't show up for dinner.

Smog May Cause Allergies

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Allergies are becoming more common. More and more of us are sneezing, coughing, wheezing and itching.

Why? I guess you can blame it primarily on civilization. Our industrialized communities constantly produce irritants that are loosed into the air. The resulting smog, even though you may not be able to see it distinctly, can play havoc with certain allergic individuals.

Not long ago, for example, it was noted that there was a high incidence of asthma among our soldiers stationed in certain areas of Japan. According to a recent issue of "Patterns of Disease," this outbreak of asthma appears to have been related to the smog, for the asthmatic conditions of the men were greatly relieved within a few hours after they'd left the industrial areas.

Another factor is that there is a wider distribution of the ragweed plant now than there has been in previous years. Hence, more of the offending pollen is available. But we aren't content to sit at home and wait for the pollen to blow in on us. We now go driving in the country as though we were searching for it.

Of course, modernization probably will result in more airconditioned autos being produced, and this will help somewhat.

Mother Nature provided ample breast milk for nursing infants. In our eagerness to improve upon nature's ways, however, there has been extensive substitution of cow's milk in infant diets.

Investigation has disclosed that seven months more infants develop allergic eczema from cow's milk than from breast milk. Moreover, 80 per cent of these infants later develop respiratory allergies.

Of course there are new synthetic products and drugs being introduced all the time. Then, too, we include more and more food varieties in our daily diets. All this seems to have resulted in an increasing hypersensitivity to such items.

As a matter of fact, food triggers more allergic attacks — 60 per cent — than any other single factor. House dust, strong odors, irritating fumes and other inhalant sensitizers rank second, accounting for 23 per cent of all allergies. Contact allergens account for about 15 per cent.

And you can't forget emotional stress! Any emotional situation — and you know how many there are in life — may precipitate asthma in a person with a potential allergy, or it may aggravate an attack of asthma in others.

Actor Clobbered, Then Is Arrested

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — When actor Lash LaRue hit his wife during a domestic argument she picked up the telephone, police report.

But she didn't call anyone. She socked him with it.

Then, officers said, LaRue's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Osborn, clobbered him with a mop.

After five stitches were taken in his scalp, LaRue was booked on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace Sunday.

The complaint was signed by his wife, Paddie, and Mrs. Osborn.

What started the argument at the home of friends was not disclosed.

The World Today

By James Marlow

For James Marlow By WILLIAM L. RYAN Associated Press News Analyst John Foster Dulles once remarked: "Time is the most valuable thing in life, and I don't want to waste it."

Time works against him now. While he battles cancer in the hospital, the hour is swiftly approaching when the policies on which he based America's prosecution of the cold war will face momentous trials.

In less than a month, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union are scheduled to meet to prepare the way for a summit meeting of government heads. It is possible the United States will be represented in Geneva by a new secretary of state.

But the influence of John Foster Dulles will be present in any case. The past six years demonstrated the tremendous impact a single personality can have upon a nation's policy and the course of history.

Basically, perhaps, American policy in a time of cold war would have been pretty much the same under any secretary of state. But it makes a great deal of difference how those policies are interpreted and carried out.

Dulles' solemn, almost evangelistic approach and his stubborn defense of moral principles have left little room for compromise on any fundamental issue of what he considered right or wrong.

Perhaps U.S. policy might have done better if its architect had been more deliberately cynical in dealing with a cynical enemy. Dulles seems to have denied himself that weapon out of conviction that a civilized Western nation's diplomacy should rely on the moral force of Christian principles. Possibly this was a little naive in today's world. But in the naive.

"We are devoting billions in money and our highest talents to preparation for a fighting war, a war that may never come," Dulles wrote long before he became secretary. "The strength of our society is being undermined by the cold war that is here and which could finally defeat us."

Dulles has never lost sight of that possibility. Apparently he still believes the Kremlin is intent upon world domination through Communist expansion. The cornerstone of his policy has been a determination to convince the Kremlin it can never succeed. The post of secretary of state always has been an easy and popular target for criticism, and Dulles has aroused many storms. Educated opinion both at home and abroad attributes U.S. policy not to President Eisenhower — as it had to presidents before him — but directly to Dulles. He bore the full brunt of criticism when he solemnly issued such verbal thunderbolts as "agonizing reappraisal" and "massive retaliation."

Only time will tell whether he will be vindicated. But time will not wait for him. Important cold war contests are ahead. Will the United States be represented by a man equal in rank to the other foreign ministers?

Dulles and President Eisenhower face another agonizing reappraisal. Dulles, influence surely will be felt at Geneva, but perhaps he and the President will decide the time has come to give the reins of U.S. policy into other hands.

Woman's Will Leaves Funds To Friends

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Grace Mackey was a stern mannered woman who put great faith in the devotion of friends.

Although wealthy, she never allowed financial standards to interfere with friendship.

She was fond of Ed Fox, 76, a taxicab driver who often provided transportation on her trips around this southern Arizona community.

She liked Ruby Hall, 46, a dining room hostess, who dropped by for a nightly visit.

Chief of Police Percy Bowden was her advisor. She called Ernie Beyer, 69, a bank cashier at nearby Bisbee, a close friend; and the same for Helen Ellis, a Colorado Springs, Colo., widow.

Mrs. Mackey, whose late husband founded the famed Gadsden Hotel of Douglas, died last August at 84. The division of her estate was announced recently.

Mrs. Hall received a check for $78,933. So did Bowden. Fox, who has been worried about security for his old age, was willed $22,522. So were Beyer and Mrs. Ellis.

She divided the rest of her estate—which totaled $285,500 after taxes—among friends around the nation.

MRS. AMERICA HOSTESS—Mrs. Marilyn Johnston, 27, mother of two children, was selected as "Mrs. Fort Lauderdale" (Fla.). Active in civic work and the wife of a restaurant manager, Mrs. Johnston was surprised to learn that she will serve as official hostess during the 1959 "Mrs. America" Pageant to be held in Fort Lauderdale, June 11 to 23.

Benson Sees Way To Use Surpluses, Aid Heart Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson recommended today more potatoes and food grains for people who worry about heart trouble from eating fats.

"There has been much concern in recent years about the amount of fat in the diet, and its relationship to heart trouble," Benson said in a talk before the Associated Retail Bakers of America.

"Our nutrition scientists in the department believe that our people in general may have gone too far in reducing consumption of grains and potatoes," Benson said.

"Research now suggests that if a larger share of the carbohydrate in our diets is derived from starch—such as provided by wheat, corn or potatoes, we may not have to be so concerned about the kinds and amounts of fats we eat, as long as total calorie requirements are not exceeded."

Ohio Education Board Revokes 5 Charters

State Panel Gives Nod To Report Calling for $5.4 Million Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It was an old story for the State Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday—school charters and money.

Five temporary charters were revoked, six were continued and five schools were granted charters. On the financial side, the board approved a report to State Finance Director James H. Maloon calling for an appropriation of $5,450,000 the board says is needed to make school foundation program payments next month.

Charters were revoked for Lore City Local School in Guernsey County, South Bloomfield Local in Morrow County and Greene, Johnston and Mecca high schools in Trumbull County. All are effective at the end of the present school year except for Mecca which will close at the end of the 1960 year.

E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, recommended the revocations because of failure of the schools to meet minimum state standards.

Revocation action on the charter for Quincy High School in Logan County was deferred to the May meeting. The board said it has been told that a proposed reorganization plan might be harmed if Quincy is closed.

Temporary charters were continued for Bennington in Morrow County, Miami Trace in Fayette County, York and Hoaglin-Jackson in Van Wert County, Hannan Trace in Gallia County and Black River in Medina County.

Charters were granted to Wapakoneta High School, Lincoln Heights High School, Barnesville High School, Beaver Local High School in Columbiana County and Licking Valley High School in Licking County.

The board approved payment of $11 to each city, county and exempted village school district for each approved classroom-teacher unit in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages. Local districts will be required to match the amounts received. The plan is designed to better the instruction in those fields.

In other action, the board: Approved until June 30, 1960, authorization for Malone College of Canton to give courses leading to the bachelor degree.

Approved the continuance of a $25,000 bond issue for Shiloh Local School District in Richland County even though the district has consolidated with the Plymouth Local School District.

Approved the transfer of a portion of East Hocking School District in Hocking County to the Logan City District.

Postponed to the May meeting action on a Fayette County petition requesting the reorganization of the two districts in that county—Washington Court House and Miami Trace.

Anti-Leptosy Vaccine Said Possibility

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A possible lead towards developing a long-sought vaccine against leptosy—one of man's oldest scourges—was reported today.

A government researcher announced successful growth in test tube tissue culture of bacteria which causes leptosy in rats. He indicated that this might open one way to:

1. Producing a vaccine against the rat disease.
2. Perhaps ultimately developing a vaccine against the human malady.

Dr. Y. T. Chang, of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases and the American Leptosy Foundation, gave this outline in a report to the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology:

The bacillus that causes human leptosy is one of the wildest and most elusive organisms of the germ world.

For many years, he said, researchers have attempted to maintain growth of the organism outside its natural host, the human body. Though it grows vigorously inside the body, it stops multiplying and soon dies if placed in an artificial environment.

Attempts to grow rat leptosy germs outside the living animal body have, until now, been tough.

Chang has come up with a cell culture in which the number of germs has increased seven times in seven weeks.

Berger Guild 12 Discusses Year Project

Berger Hospital Guild No. 12 met in the home of Mrs. Jeanette Armstrong on Dunmore Road on Monday evening, for their April meeting. The chairman, Mrs. William Defenbaugh, presided for the business meeting during which Mrs. Sterling Poling was named to check needs and secure recommendations for the Guild's project for the year.

Mrs. Defenbaugh was in charge of the program using as her discussion topic, "How much should you play with children?" Mrs. Defenbaugh pointed out that it is the role of the parent to encourage and suggest, rather than become a playmate. She also suggested not buying too many ready made toys, because after a short time the child will be back with the perennial question, "What can I do now?" Instead, she suggested let the child create his own toys or entertainment.

12 Pottery Firms Face Union Walkout

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some 7,000 pottery workers are set to strike after midnight tonight against 12 companies in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

"We definitely are going on strike," a spokesman for the International Brotherhood of Cooperative Potters said Monday following a fruitless negotiating session with the U.S. Potters Assn.

The contract does not expire until Oct. 1, but the negotiations came up under a clause that permits the union to seek different wage scales at this time.

The union wants a 40-cent-an-hour wage hike. Minimum wage scales are $1.41 an hour for women and $1.63 for men.

Joseph M. Wells, head negotiator for the companies, said the pottery business is "a sick industry." He said imports of China and plastics have reduced sales by domestic pottery plants.

"We have asked the union in the best interests of their own members to extend the contract for another year," Wells said. "If we can show a profit during this time we will be happy to consider a wage increase."

Companies affected are: Homer Laughlin China, Newell, W. Va.; Edwin M. Knowles China, Newell, W. Va.; Taylor, Smith and Taylor, Chester, W. Va.; Harker Pottery Co., Chester, W. Va.; Hall China Co., East Liverpool, Ohio; Sterling China Co., Wellsville, Ohio; Salem China Co., Salem, Ohio; Steubenville Pottery Co., Steubenville, Ohio; Royal China Co., Sebring, Ohio; French-Saxon China Co., Sebring, Ohio; Canonsburg Pottery Co., Canonsburg, Pa.; and Universal Potteries, Inc., Cambridge, Ohio.

7 Teams Slated For First Tilts In Home Parks

Same Number Listed As Undeclared in Major League Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Major league baseball puts a finish to the business of "season openers" today with the National League champion Milwaukee Braves, San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers playing their first games at home. The Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles make their home debuts in the American.

Seven of the majors' 16 clubs still are unbeaten. Six still are trying to get started.

Here's today's schedule of home openers:

American League
Kansas City at Chicago.
Detroit at Cleveland.
New York at Baltimore.
Washington at Boston.
National League
Philadelphia at Milwaukee.
Chicago at San Francisco.
St. Louis at Los Angeles (N)

The Pittsburgh Pirates, surprising members of the winless six, are at Cincinnati tonight but that doesn't qualify as an opener. It was at Cincinnati that the Pirates began their 0-3 frustration last Thursday.

The White Sox, who matched some fine relief pitching with some surprise power for a three-game sweep at Detroit, expect a crowd of about 23,000 at Comiskey Park for their debut against the A's, who were beaten by Cleveland in their only two starts.

The unbeaten Indians come home with hopes of pulling in 40,000 or more while giving Herb Score another test. The betroubled lefty was wild in a brief relief chore at Kansas City.

The Yankees (1-0) also have a test case on the mound, with Don Larsen still to prove that his bothersome shoulder is fit. The Orioles, who haven't played since losing Thursday's opener at Washington, estimate some 30,000 fans will show up.

The Red Sox, stymied by bad weather and the two-hit pitching of Bob Turley at New York last weekend, now are battling the flu. About 20,000 are expected at Fenway Park.

Warren Spahn, who shut out the Pirates last Friday, goes for No. 2 against the Phils, who beat Cincinnati in their lone start. Good weather is expected to bring 43,000 fans.

The Giants, 3-0 after their sweep at St. Louis, have a half-game edge over the Braves (2-0). They'll introduce their half of the trade with the Phils with Jack Sanford going for his seventh victory in 10 decisions against the Cubs. The Giants expect a sellout crowd of 23,000.

The Dodgers, who split a pair at Chicago last weekend, hope for 60,000 at the Coliseum.

Arcaro Picks First Landing in Derby

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Arcaro is sticking by his original decision. He'll bid for his sixth Kentucky Derby victory May 2 with First Landing.

The veteran jockey made that plain today after the 2-year old champ of 1958 had jumped back into the derby picture with a sizzling six-furlong performance at Jamaica Monday.

"I'll ride First Landing in the Wood Memorial Saturday and that means I'll also be up on him in the Derby," said the 43-year-old jockey who has won more Kentucky Derbies than any other rider.

Tiger Cindermen Second in Meet

An improved Circleville High School track team grabbed second place in a meet held yesterday at Chillicothe.

Chillicothe grappled first on the strength of 79 points. Circleville trailed with 40 and Lancaster was third with 32.

The Tigers, bolstered by the return of Junior Denny and several other performers, made perhaps their best showing of the season. Coach John Current said he was more than pleased with his crew's steady improvement.

Circleville notched four first places yesterday and for the first time brought home points on second and third places which are vital factors in winning track meets.

GARY Vandemark was top point maker for the Tigers, breezing to first place in the 100 and 440-yard dashes. He raced the 100 yards in 10.6 and ran the 440 in 55 flat. Denny, an outstanding performer last year, was used sparingly yesterday in that he came out for the team only last week. Although he has had little practice, the speedster took first place in the high jump with a 5' 5" leap.

Circleville's other first was turned in by Dick Gerhardt in the discus. The consistent thrower hurled the plate 102' 7" and was third in the shotput.

Vandemark came in second in the broad jump and third in the high jump. Larry Hannas took second in the shotput, raced to second in the 180-yard low hurdles to give the Tigers some valuable points.

Pickaway Tops Jackson, 5-4 Walnut Tigers Smash Atlanta Raiders, 16-0

Although outitting Jackson, 10-3, host Pickaway Pirates needed a last inning rally to edge the stubborn Wildcats, 5-4, yesterday afternoon.

The Pirates got off to a 4-1 fifth inning lead, only to have Jackson tie up the ball game in the top half of the sixth inning with a three-run rally.

Winning hurler was Richard Dean, a Pickaway freshman, who walked but one man and struck out 15. Jerry Brigner absorbed the defeat, allowing two walks and striking out eight opponents.

Dave Petty led the Pirates at bat, smacking 3 for 4, which included a double. Jerry Anderson, Gall Wolfe and Harry Lee each garnered two hits with Wolfe connecting for two doubles.

Walnut Tigers Smash Atlanta Raiders, 16-0

Walnut's Tom Harber twirled a five-inning no-hitter yesterday afternoon to lead the Tigers to a 16-0 bombardment of their host Atlanta Red Raiders.

Walnut had a sensational day at bat and in the field. The Tigers blasted 18 hits, which included two triples and nine doubles. Walnut committed no errors for the first time this year.

Atlanta aided its opponents cause by committing six errors. Top hitters were Harber, who was four for four with a triple, two doubles and a single; Lloyd Davidson, hitting 3-4 and Riley, who also racked up 4-4, including a double and a three-bagger.

Harber recorded his second win of the year without a defeat, striking out nine batters, allowing three walks and hitting two batsmen.

ATLANTA'S YATES took the defeat, allowing 13 hits and walking two men. Bush relieved him in the fourth inning and gave up an additional five hits.

The Tigers are now 4-2 on the year. They showed their speed afoot as they stole 18 bases. Riley pilfered four bases and White, three.

Tigers Ready For Invasion By Wilmington

Circleville High School opens defense of its South Central Ohio League crown today when Wilmington rolls into town to test the Tigers. Game time is set for 4:30 p. m. at Ted Lewis Park.

The Tigers will be looking for their fourth win in five starts at the expense of the Clinton County Hurricane. To date the locals have split with Chillicothe and won two from Athens.

Joe Adkins probably will get the nod for pitching duties. The ace righthander will be out to even his record after dropping a rain-swept game at Chillicothe last week.

If Adkins needs help tonight there will be Don Rowland, Duane Dean and Bob Caudill available to put out the fire. Dean and Caudill picked up wins in Saturday's doubleheader at Athens.

OTHER starters probably will include Catcher Harry Strawser, First Baseman Bill Purcell, Second Baseman Terry Dean or Rowland, Shortstop Cal Ellis, Third Baseman Ray Phifer, Leftfielder Jim Woods, Centerfielder Dick Greenlee and Rightfielders Danny Leonhardt or Jake Bailey.

Friday the Tigers will host Washington C. H. in their second SCO test of the season.

Sal Maglie Is Named as Pitching Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Time caught up with Sal Maglie Monday. The 42-year-old righthander, who stilled enemy bats with a snapping variety of curve balls, took a job with the St. Louis Cardinals as a pitching instructor for their minor league clubs. The Cards recently had asked waivers on Maglie in order to hand him his unconditional release.

But the front office brass figures Sal is a treasure trove of pitching knowledge—invaluable to fledgling hurlers.

Maglie's first chore was to travel by train—he doesn't trust airplanes—to Albany, Ga., where the Cards have their minor league headquarters. From there Maglie will wander about in nomad fashion, helping out wherever he's needed.

As he packed in his hotel room, Sal seemed in good spirits. He said his new job was "the best thing for me."

"I like to work with kids and I think I can teach them a lot," he added.

In nine seasons in the majors he notched 119 victories while losing only 62, a percentage of .657. Only Whitey Ford of the Yankees — among active pitchers — has done better. Ford has a phenomenal .724 career mark.

Montreal Favored In Stanley Cup

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs are in a familiar role for tonight's third game of the Stanley hockey cup finals against the Montreal Canadiens. They're the underdogs.

The Leafs, who crossed the odds-makers by edging into National Hockey League playoffs three weeks ago and did it again last week by eliminating the Boston Bruins in the semifinal round, aren't given much of a chance to halt the Canadiens.

Tue Blake's club won the first

Ortiz Now Seeks Shot at Champion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Carlos Ortiz is talking of a lightweight title bout after showing unexpected power in a sixth-round technical knockout of Len Matthews. "I could have beaten the champ (Joe Brown) the way I felt," Ortiz said after Monday night's decisive win. "First I have to meet Willie Towel in London and then I hope to get Brown."

Ortiz, the second-ranking contender, certainly did nothing to hurt his title chances.

Matthews, unranked but supposedly the superior hitter, landed some of his best punches. Ortiz neither flinched nor appeared shaken.

Ortiz the little Puerto Rican from New York, led the Philadelphia all the way. There were no knockdowns.

Ortiz, at 136, had a one-pound weight advantage.

Augusta Course Too Easy--Snead

BOSTON (AP)—If the Masters golf tourney were played under the same conditions as the U.S. Open, the winning score each year would be about 300, says Sam Snead.

Snead, an old pro who should know, told an annual dinner of the New England PGA Monday night that the Masters is a great event, but if "the Augusta course were tricked up like the courses over which the Open is played" the scores would skyrocket.

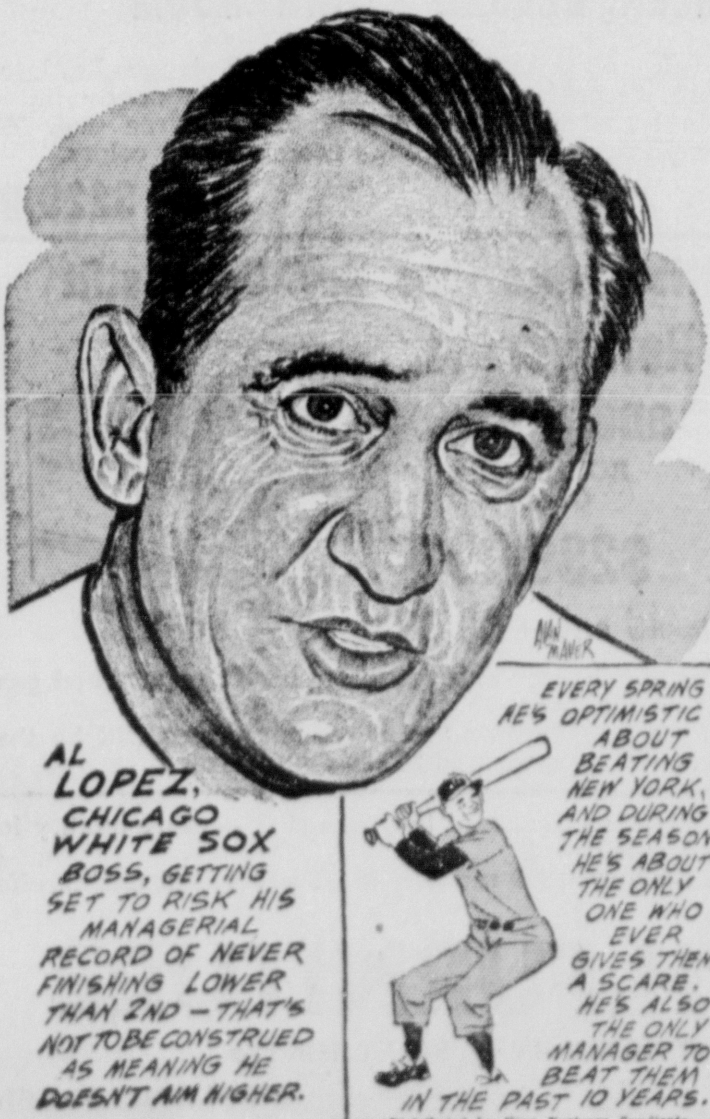

"The players won't even recognize Winged Foot of New York in June when that course is set up for the championship," Snead said. Some of the fairways will be so narrow that even I will be able to jump across them."

two games of the best-of-seven series and needs only two more to make it a sweep. The next two games will be in Toronto.

Toronto bookies have made the Canadiens 8-5 favorites to win tonight's game.

The Canadiens have won the cup the last three seasons.

Gary's Seacret

Gary and Rocky are expert skin divers. Over the side and into the Bahamian sea.

FILM STAR Gary Cooper recently found a vacation pastime that is a world apart from his frontier movie adventures. And, at the same time, it was revealed that he is an expert skin-diver and swimmer. Following a publicity tour for his latest film, "The Hanging Tree," the lanky star and his beautiful wife, Rocky, flew to Nassau with friends Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris of Rye, N. Y. During their stay, they were taken sightseeing and skin-diving by Bruce Parker, a skin-diving professional, in his converted shrimp boat. They cruised in and out of bays off the coast of Nassau, and plunged beneath the sparkling blue waters of the Bahamian sea, shimmering with brilliant, multi-colored tropical fish. Rocky turned out to be as expert a diver and swimmer as her husband. (Central Press)

Cleveland Acquitted In Second Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Albert Mogar, 39, accused of killing a 75-year-old man who was with him in the probate ward of county jail, was acquitted Monday by Common Pleas Judge Joseph H. Silbert. It was the second time Mogar had been accused under similar circumstances and won acquittal. Silbert ruled that Mogar, recently returned from Lima State Hospital, was insane when William Riddle was killed. Mogar had been accused of strangling a man in 1944 while a patient in a Chagrin Falls institution. He was sent to the Lima Hospital but later declared sane and then acquitted.

Northeast Ohio Set for Fast Time

CLEVELAND (AP)—Northeast Ohio will make its annual switch to daylight saving time April 26, leaving the rest of the state an hour behind.

The "fast time" belt includes the area northeast of a line running from Vermilion southeast to Bell Aire. In addition to Cleveland, such major industrial cities as Akron, Youngstown, Canton and Warren are included in the belt.

Most of the area will switch back to standard time Sept. 27, but some of the cities will not make the switch until a month later — Oct. 25. Cleveland, Youngstown, East Liverpool and Steubenville will be among the latter group.

Costs Showing Decline
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Relief costs in Mahoning County dropped last month for the first time in 15 months. During March, $165,000 was spent for relief, Isadore L. Feuer, county welfare director, reported Monday. The relief load reached a high of $193,000 in February.
